$8,000 FIRE LOSS IN WESTERY

The big blacksmith shop of the Smith Granite works was totally destroyed by fire, with all its contents, including fourteen forges, early Friday morning. The fire was discovered by Chief Engineer Samuel G. Cottrell, who resides in the Smith homestead on Quarry Hill, and not far from the burning building. Chief Cottrell was awakened by the strong smell of smoke in his home and made a hurried investigation, but found no indication of fire except the smoke odor. On looking out of the window he saw that the roof of the blacksmith shop was ablaze and telephoned to the Westery Automatic telephone exchange to send an alarm, but there was no satisfactory response.

He dressed hurriedly and ran to the nearest fire alarm box at the corner of School and George streets and sent in the alarm thirty-seven, the firemen responding with their usual promptness. By this time the building was a mass of flames, but the work of the firemen kept the fire within the building. The blacksmith shed was a one-story structure, about two hundred feet in length, built thirty-five years ago and was insured. The loss with contents is estimated at $8,000.

The Smith Granite works is located in the territory added within a year to Westery fire district, but which is not yet supplied with fire protection equal to some other sections of the city. Several hundred feet of hose were required to stretch in from the nearest hydrant to the burning building. The fire was located quite a distance from the highway, but the water pressure was ample to cope with the blaze.

While the fire service was all that could be expected under existing conditions, it is evident that more fire alarm boxes and a change in the alarm system is needed to give the enlarged fire district proper protection. At the annual meeting of the fire district, Chief Cottrell and one board of engineers recommended the placing of fire alarm boxes in the annexed district and remodeling the fire alarm system in order to meet the requirements of the district. Cottrell also recommended that property holders in the annexed district be required to give tax-payers in the old district. Plans were submitted and estimated at the cost, but the whole matter was turned down. Under a misapprehension that those in the annexed district had no right to participate in the doings of the annual meeting, there was but one resident of the new section of the fire district present, and his efforts to better the fire conditions were unavailing.

The increase in revenue by reason of the enlargement of the fire district made it possible to reduce the tax on twenty cents to fifteen cents on each $100 of taxable property, which was done, but the additional fire alarm boxes and changes in alarm system were denied. At the time there was talk of a demand for a special meeting to rescind the vote that denied extension of the system to the annexed district, but the matter ended in talk.

The fire was caused by a gas leak from a furnace in the basement of the building. The fire spread rapidly and the building was completely destroyed. The loss of the building and its contents is estimated at $8,000.
